

Honor Campers

Each five week session four simple, wood-burned plaques go home with four special young men. The plaques identify those who receive them as Sequoyah Honor Campers, the four campers of each session who somehow show through their lives what Sequoyah is all about. The staff has no say in the selection of Honor Campers; it is an honor given solely by the vote of all campers in a tribe. We proudly salute the 1976 Sequoyah Honor Campers:

AREA AWARDS

No camper goes home from Sequoyah with a bunch of fancy awards. We believe that doing something the best you can is its own reward; so we don't give out a lot of trophies, medals or ribbons. We do, however, like to recognize and say "how-how" to those individuals who showed exceptional interest, skill and achievement in each Area.
